Need to Know

By: Joseph

Ever since the year 2017 started there have been multiple incidents where racial slurs have been written all over famous colored people's homes and several murders occurring, due to religion and ethnicity. One of the most shocking incidents that occurred is the racist slurs written on LeBron James home, one of the best basketball players of all time. LeBron states that " You know... The most important thing is that... you know.... My family is safe.... And that what is important." He said.

"Being an African American is tough in America... There is not a time on this Earth when I don't question the safety of my family, just because they're black." What do you think, do you think that all of us should be treated as equals; or do you think we should all be separated, and white's should be treated as the superior species.

Dear Ausnah Advice Column

By: Hannah and Austin

Dear Ausnah,
I'm having trouble with school ending because I want to see my friends. Why because they are moving away or they are going on vacations. What should I do?
Sincerely School ending.

Dear School ending,
It is hard leaving school without your friends there with you. You might go on vacation and if you're not then ask your parents if you can. Or you can hang out with other friends. Remember that we come back in fall so you can see them or make more friends.
Sincerely Ausnah.

Staff Interview

This week, we are going to be talking about our lovely school counselor, Ms. Julie Reynolds. She was born in Indianapolis, Indiana, in 1958. She never really had any inspiration or goal for wanting to become a teacher. "I'm still waiting for it to come" she said, on Wednesday, May 31. She has been teaching since 1983, which makes it 34 years now. She started teaching Math. She doesn't plan on sticking around much after next year, which is sad. Next year she plans on teaching GT (gifted and talented) again because it was so much fun this year. She got her BA at Clemson University in South Carolina, in Psychology. After she finished teaching at WSU, she came to the U of I to get her teaching certificate in Mathematics and Psychology. She also attended UTSA, to receive her MA in counseling. She has one private practice counseling in Moscow and Pullman for trauma patients.

Short Story: By: Iris

I drop my phone with the live camera still on. The snake sizzles its tongue and gets closer to my face. My heart is beating so wildly I could swear that the beast could hear it. Just then my whole world goes pitch black, and I lose consciousness.

Alya SixTeen Years Later

Alya sits at her desk, staring out the tinted window. She sighs and calls for her assistant. Felicia stumbles through the door with coffee and a slice of coffee cake.

"Milady you have a board meeting in forty-five minutes and thirty seven seconds." Felicia straightens her posture, and looks at her boss.

"Anything else?"

"Ah- yes. You scheduled a meeting with Sanders Alcherich and Ayana Alcherich. That takes place one hour after the board meeting."

"Alcherich?"

"Yes...? That's what it says on your schedule."

"I never scheduled a meeting with them."

"No, but they called to schedule one and I reported it to you. You said to go on ahead and put it on your schedule." she goes over and double checks her notes. "Do you want me to cancel?"

"No, no. It's fine... I just didn't realize that I was going to be meeting with them."

"Do you know them?"

"I haven't seen them in sixteen years...." Alya pauses. "They're my parents."

SeaBeast continued

I'm shocked to see myself in my original form as the transformation takes place. Once again I've become a dreaded beast of the waters. My body is at least three hundred feet tall. The monster that was once in front of me was replaced by a man. He slowly fades away- and turns into sea foam. My heart skips a beat when I'm transformed back into a human. I fall hundreds of feet and crash into the water.

I wake up in bed- Adri is sleeping in the bed across from me, groaning in her sleep and clearly hungover.

Was it all a dream? No... I still have a bruise from hitting the water, and a scar from the rock I cut myself on when I jumped.

Current Events

By Soren:

Sports:

In the NFL there has been some things that the managers have had to do. They have threatened to let players go if they do not show some improvement in the next season. This is the time that the coaches are making the changes for the positions for the players. They are also finding out who is going to be starting.

Politics:

Trump has stopped working with the "Paris Climate Accord." That is not a good thing and we know this because the action is thought to be short sighted. Because of Trump making this act there are headlines that are up about this article saying "The World is Against Trump."

Environmental & Weather:

In the town of Moscow and Lewiston we have been getting the heat. There have been two days in Lewiston with 100 degrees. So we have finally been getting the weather that we have wanted. But there is rain on the way so we will have another wet day here. The rain is nice for all of the farms after the heat.
